Herencia reports 'excellent' test work results from deposit at Paguanta project

LONDON (Thomson Financial) - South-America focused miner Herencia Resources Plc. said metallurgical testwork at the 'Patricia' deposit at the 70 percent-owned Paguanta zinc-lead-silver project in Chile has shown excellent results, with the scope to optimise concentrate grades and achieve even higher metal recoveries.

Final results returned zinc recovery at 91.6 percent, at 56 percent concentrate grade and lead recovery at 71 percent at a 39 percent concentrate grade. The company also recovered silver at 83.4 percent within the zinc and lead concentrates.
